Larry Jordan Presents PowerUP with Final Cut Studio in Santa Barbara on June 25-26

Agoura Hills, CA (April 24, 2007) Internationally-renowned editor, director, and trainer Larry Jordan is launching his new two-day “Larry Jordan Presents: PowerUP with Final Cut Studio!” worldwide seminar tour in Santa Barbara on June 25-26, 2007. Jordan will present in fifteen cities in North America. He will be showcasing Final Cut Studio 2, the editing software suite comprised of Final Cut Pro 6, Motion 3, Compressor 3, DVD Studio Pro 4, Soundtrack Pro 2 and Apple’s new application, Color. This production suite is completely upgraded to retain its leadership position as the professional choice for high-performance digital nonlinear video and film editing. “Final Cut Studio 2 is quite exciting, but with so many new features, it may be difficult for editors to find the time to learn it on their own,” said Jordan. “That’s where our seminars can help. We give you the guidance you need to pick the right hardware, optimize your system, and then make the most of it — all in a fast-paced, entertaining, and informative way.”

Jordan will be in Santa Barbara for two days, presenting “Picking the Right Hardware” and “Optimize Your Editing with Final Cut” on June 25, 2007, and “Mastering Final Cut Studio” on June 26, 2007. All seminars will be presented at the Hotel Andalusia.

The four-hour “Picking the Right Hardware” covers selecting the right hard drive, monitor, capture card, camera, decks and what to avoid; editing in a networked environment; and working with HDV. “Optimize Your Editing with Final Cut” is specially designed for novice and self-taught Final Cut Pro users to help them get better organized and edit more efficiently in four hours. “Mastering Final Cut Studio” is an eight-hour immersion that delves into Apple’s new software, Color; audio mixing and improving the quality of projects in Soundtrack Pro 2; and new effects in Final Cut Pro 6
